Wire Stirs Hope For Area Soldier Believed A PW

The flickering flame of hope of his family that Cpl. John Rozear of Fleetwing Estate, missing in the Korean campaign since 1950 was still alive, flared up yesterday afternoon with the arrival of an Army telegram.

The soldier's sister, Mrs. Peter Marozzi, of 7 Fleetwing drive, answered the doorbell and was taken aback by the sight of the telegram.

She slit it open gingerly. The telegram read:

"The Secretary of the Army has asked me to inform you that the name of Cpl. John Rozear was included in a list of servicemen, who, there is reason to believe, were at one time in Communist custody, but for whom no accounting has yet been made. The list has been presented to the Communists with an urgent request for such an accounting. All possible efforts are being made to obtain information regarding Cpl. Rozear, and in the event any is received, it will be furnished you promptly."

The message was signed by Maj. Gen. William Bergin, adjutant general of the Army.

Faintly Warming

The news was only faintly warming to the family, which, in addition to Mrs. Marozzi, consists of Cpl. Rozear's younger brother, David, 13, and his father, John Rozear, Sr.

CPL. JOHN ROZEAR

They have had no word from or about the soldier since he was reported missing in action July 29, 1950. He was serving then in the 34th Infantry Regiment of the 29th Division.

The family is anxiously awaiting the arrival of Attillio Cauti, Bristol veteran, recently released by the Communists, who is expected home shortly. Cauti and Cpl. Rozear served in the same division and it was Mrs. Marozzi's hope yesterday that he might be able to give her some meager strand of information about her brother.

Mrs. Marozzi said they had re-

Area Plant Plans Action on Odors

EDGELY, Sept. 11 — The Bristol Township Commissioners yesterday were assured of steps to end odors and fly ash at the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company plant which have brought complaints from Edgely and Fleetwings Estates residents.

Meeting at the plant with Township Solicitor Robert K. Baker, the commissioners were told by William A. Aitken, plant manager, that a solution to be infused into odor-bearing fumes in the near future is expected to diminish the odors.

Aitken, according to a township spokesman, "said the company is aware of the fly ash problem and has been working on several possible solutions." The plant manager will report to Baker on progress in eliminating fly ash.

Prepare 'Quickie,' Formal Welcomes For Returning PW

Plans for a tentative nature were discussed last evening to extend an appropriate "welcome home" to Cpl. Attillio Cauti, who is expected to return to his home possibly today or tomorrow. At a meeting held in the Elks Home with Horace P. Schmidt, as chairman, it was decided that definite plans could not be made due to the uncertainty of the date of Cauti's arrival in Bristol.

Upon Cauti's arrival home a "quickie" reception will be staged at the returning PW's home, 902 Spring street. The exterior of the house will be decorated. Recorded music will be provided for dancing in the street.

Real 'Welcome'

Then on a later date set tentatively as Sept. 19, a real "welcome home" will be extended. There will be a street parade, a welcoming speech by Burgess I. J. Hethering, Sr., and other events of a suitable nature.

Representatvies of organizations and numerous societies attended

Grand Jurymen Indict Wheatley On Three Counts

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11 — Thomas Wheatley of Langhorne was indicted by the September Grand Jury on three charges in the shooting of State Trooper George Caldarelli last May.

Wheatley's son, Thomas Wheatley, Jr., who was present at the scene of the shooting, was indicted on two counts.

No True Bill

The Grand Jury did not return one indictment, attempt with intent to kill, as a true bill. It grows out of the shooting in the leg of Walter Leonhauser, garageman who was injured in the exchange of shots between the defendant, Wheatley, and the State Policeman.

District Attorney Willard S. Curtin said Wheatley will be tried next Tuesday. He was indicted by the Grand Jury on two bills, containing assault and battery with intent to kill, aggravated assault and battery, assault and battery, wantonly pointing and discharging a firearm, and another bill, attempt with intent to kill.

Two Counts

Thomas Wheatley, Jr., had true bills returned against him on two indictments, resisting arrest and assault and battery and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

District Attorney Curtin said that the two cases of Thomas Wheatley Jr., will not be tried until the October term of criminal court.

State Policeman George Caldarelli appeared in court here to apear before the Grand Jury. He didn't use crutches or a cane but "walked like an invalid." He is still under the care of a physician and has internal wounds which may drain for the next two years.

Bristol Township Park Area Plan Given Approval

Project Hinges On Adjustment Of Zoning Code

EMILIE, Sept. 11—A plan to develop a park area near Margo Gardens, with a lake for swimming and boating, was approved by the Bristol Township Commissioners last night. The commissioners agreed to an arrangement whereby C. J. Langenfelder & Son, Pennsylvania Turnpike contractors, would make the lake site available to them at a $500-an-acre option.

The park was suggested by representatives of Langenfelder, who is purchasing the 45-acre farm of Joseph Schwartz. The land is north of Magnolia road, bounded by Bristol-Oxford Valley road on the west, Mill Creek on the east and Rex Engineering Company to the north.

To Mine Fill

The contractor will mine the land for fill to use in constructing the eastern extension of the turnpike. He is applying to Bristol Township Board of Zoning Adjustment for a special zoning code exception, to dig on the R-1 residenial-zoned plot.

Langenfelder representatives, conferring with the commissioners, said when the turnpike is completed, they will give the township option to buy, at $500 an acre, part or all of the plot, depending on the amount evacuated for fill dirt. They promised to leave intact a "buffer" strip, 100 to 150 feet wide, around the hole they will dig.

Man-Made Lake

The man-made lake could receive water from three sources, Commissioner Fred K. Hibbs said, Mill Creek, Queen Ann Creek and Laurel Creek.

A delegation of area residents attended the meeting, and expressed satisfaction with the park plan. Last week, the same group pre-

Firemen Quench Flames On Board Local To Trenton

Bristol firemen rendezvoused with a Pennsylvania Railroad electric train shortly after 6 p. m. yesterday so that they could more conveniently fight a fire the train was carrying.

The Philadelphia to Trenton four-car train, carrying a number of Levittown residents, left Philadelphia Suburban Station at 5:20 p. m. and when it reached Bristol Borough a half hour later crewmen noticed smoke billowing from the forward undercarrigae of the third car.

Elevation of the Bristol station above street level made it impossible for fire trucks to reach the platform. So station officials telephoned Frank Craven, signal master at the Grundy Tower a mile and a half north of the station, asking him to alert firemen and to stop the train at a convenient spot.

The Consolidated Fire Company and Volunteer Fire Companies 2 and 6, dispatched by Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman, reached the rendezvous point at Grundy Tower

County Bankers Fear Effects of New 'Merger'

Lower Standard Will Follow, Says Group Secretary

A statement was issued immediately this morning to The Courier by the Bucks County Bankers Association when it was learned that the Western Saving Fund Society, of Philadelphia, announced plans to open an out-of-town branch in Upper Darby.

A spokesman for the bank admitted his institution had been inspired to the move by the example of the Philadelphia National Bank, which also recently announced its intention to open a branch office bank in Conshohocken, Montgomery County.

The statement of the Bucks County Bankers Association, which vowed to fight the move of the Philadelphia National Bank when its plans first became known about a month ago, was released by Elmer C. Cates, secretary of the association.

"The action of the Western Savings Funds Society," the statement says, "In applying for a branch in Upper Darby on the grounds that permission was granted to the Philadelphia National Bank to merge with the First National Bank of Conshohocken indicates a trend that many other banks will endeavor to branch out of Philadelphia County.

"The inevitable result is that additional banks moving into counties surrounding Philadelphia, which already have adequate banking facilities, will lower the standards of safety which have been the secret of the success of our present banking system."

Applies for OK

A spokesman for the Western Saving Fund Society said his 106-year-old institution is making its third application to the State Banking Board for approval of the proposed branch.

He said previous requests, made in 1944 and 1949, were turned down. The latest application, he said, is being made on the basis that the branch would serve 1900 Delaware County residents, who now have outstanding loans of $13,700,000 for the financing of homes.

"We will be opposed to it, no matter what bank it is," said Robert B. Hance, Jr., of Newtown, president of the Bucks County Bankers Association, when informed of the latest move that local bankers had, in fact, anticipated pessimistically.

"We have no quarrel with any bank," Hance continued, "But we

Center Offers Class In Human Relations

FALLSINGTON, Sept. 11 — A course in human relations incident control will be brought back to Bucks County by popular demand, when sessions begin at William Penn Center, Wednesday, Oct. 7.

The course, sponsored by the Friends Service Committee, has the support of Norman Vincent Peale, D.D., pastor of Marble Collegiate Church, New York City, and noted religious broadcaster and writer.

Dr. Peale said, "Hate is a communicable disease. Fortunately there are practical ways for everyone to help fight this disease. To learn these ways and become dedicated to their use through a course in human relations should be the coveted privilege of every citizen."

The incident course sessions will be held every Wednesday at 8 p. m. from Oct. 7 through Dec. 9. J. Leon Rabben, Philadelphia attorney and administrator of incident control at Fellowship House in Philadelphia, will again be the instructor of the local course. Classes will be limited to 30 persons.

Mr. Rabben approaches the problem with a positive rather than a negative manner. The course is geared towards the understanding of prejudice and how to cope with it.

Bradshaw Snipes, Bucks County farmer and chairman of the committee on community relations, describes the course as "a practical 10 weeks' course in human relations to head off and control the spread of racial, national and religious prejudice."

Medical Society To Back Drive For Health Dept.

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11 — The Bucks County Medical Society yesterday threw its wholehearted support to the drive for a county health department.

Dr. Richard I. Darnell, chairman of the society's public health committee, told the group assembled at Fountain House Inn, Doylestown, the ballot in November will carry the question: "Do you favor a county health department for Bucks County?" The doctor said, "Over 2½ times the necessary number of signatures were on the ballot petitions."

"Support from one end of the county to another is rapidly growing," the doctor said. He added, "One of the chief jobs is to dispel the idea that such a local health institution is new and untried. Over 1220 counties in 40 of the 49 states have county health departments," he said. "Some of them," the doctor concluded, "are 95-years-old."

The society heard a talk by Dr. Irving Leopold, director of the research laboratory at the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia. The doctor described the use of radio-active phosphorous in detecting tumors of the eyeball.

Dr. Leopold referred to recent research into two common eye ailments: ubeicis and diabetic eye change. He stressed the role of the family physician in detecting eye disorders.

The society announced it will support the campaign for the health department by providing speakers for public meetings and helping to pay for posters and other similar items.

PTA Displeased At Board Refusal Of Crossing Guard

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Sept. 11—Members of Trevose-Penn Valley PTA yesterday expressed dissatisfaction with a decision of the Bensalem Township School Board not to place a guard at the Trevose crossing of the Reading Railroad.

Mrs. Evelyn Stahl, president of the PTA said, in a statement to the press, "Wednesday night's action by the school board was a great disappointment for parents of children whose lives are endangered daily in crossing the tracks enroute to school.

"We had hoped to start the school year with this danger eradicated. We had looked to the school board to take a courageous stand on this issue and a step forward in the betterment of conditions in a rapidly expanding community."

The school board decided not to place a guard at the crossing on the grounds that they might be held liable for damages in case of accident. The decision was reached after study over the past year with legal counsel.

Jersey Governor Unable To Attend Meeting of DVPA

NEW HOPE, Sept. 11—The Delaware Valley Protective Association will hold its annual meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the New Hope High Schol Memorial Gymnasium. President Dr. Wilson McNeary will preside.

Guests include Gov. John S. Fine, Congressman Karl C. King and Senator Edward B. Watson. Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey will be unable to attend. He is sending as his representatives, Howard Critchlow, director of the division of water supply of the Department of Conservation, and Charles P. Wilbur, head of the Department of Parks.

The meeting, which is expected to pack the gymnasium with guests from many Delaware Valley communities, will be a dual celebration. The meeting will mark the complete restoration of the Delaware Canal on the Pennsylvania and on the New Jersey side.

The meeting will also serve to recognize the work of Senator Watson in his support of various projects for the improvement of the Delaware Valley. Public tribute will be paid to Governor Fine, for his co-operation with the association.

Another guest of honor will be 83-year-old Frank Sigafoos of Yardley. He was superintendent of the Bristol-Brownsburg section of the canal for many years.

Fender Damaged In Sideswiping

LANGHORNE, Sept. 11—An automobile driven by Mrs. Ruth C. Bryant, R. D. 2, Langhorne, received a dented left rear fender in a brush with another car yesterday.

The mishap occurred on Trenton avenue a short distance off Route 413-A near Fairless Hills.

Patrolman Joseph A. Zalot, Jr., of the Middletown Township police, said a car driven by Phillip J. Intille, 801 Kenwood road, Drexel Hill, sideswiped Mrs. Bryant's car.

Intille told the officer he had passed one car and was trying to overtake Mrs. Bryant's car, but misjudged the distance required for a safe circuit.

Patrolman Zalot said a summons for reckless driving will be issued against Intille.

Little Boy Gets Lost

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 11 — A little boy took the wrong bus yesterday and ended up in Tullytown, much to his surprise and to the amazement of Tullytown police.

Paul Balog, 5, 209 Anderson avenue, Morrisville, was on his way home from classes at Holy Trinity School in Morrisville, he thought. Paul and the bus driver realized his mistake when the bus was almost to Tullytown. After questioning local construction workers, the driver deposited Paul on Police Chief Walterich's door step.

According to Walterich, the child could remember only his first name and that he was in the first grade at Holy Trinity School. His last name and his street address he had forgotten. With these clues to work with, Chief Walterich called the rectory and then the school.

Chief Walterich was able to discover Paul's indentity during a talk with the school's first grade teacher, and finally return him to his nearly frantic mother.

District Rotarian Pays Annual Visit To Bristol Club

"Rotary Clubs in 86 countries and geographical regions throughout the world are united in an endeavor to improve international understanding, good will and peace."

This remark was made yesterday by Charles A. McCafferty, governor of the 266th district of Rotary International, when he addressed the Bristol Rotary Club.

McCafferty, who is making his annual visit to the clubs in his district spoke to the group at a luncheon at the Elks home following a conference with officers and committee chairman of the local club.

He explained that the club has spent more than $1,250,000 in recent years through its program of student fellowships, which enables college students to study for one year in countries other than their own. Since this program was established in 1947, 493 Rotary fellowships have been awarded students in 55 countries. McCafferty stressed that this is in addition to the actvities of the 8000 Rotary clubs within their own communities.

ceived a letter from the adjutant general in July, 1951, informing them Cpl. Rozear's name had been released on a prisoner of war list, but this was never confirmed. At the same time, they were told to write to the soldier in care of the Chinese People's Committee for World Peace, at Peiping, China. Mrs. Marozzi said there is no way of knowing whether their letters to her brother have ever been received.

Now 23

Cpl. Rozear would be 23 years old now. He left Delhaas High School to join the Army in August, 1949. For about six months prior to his entrance into the service he was employed by the Robinson Tile Company in Morrisville.

While still in his teens, Cpl. Rozear played a flashy brand of ball for the Bristol Terrace baseball team.

Shortly after the first of the year, his personal effects arrived home. Among them was a medal that had been awarded to him for excellence in the high jump at some Army sporting event.

Mrs. Marozzi said that was the first indication the family had that prideful, but now rather unimportant, event had taken place.

Also included in the soldier's possession's were a batch of pleasant snapshots showing Rozear smiling in the company of his buddies.

Few Pictures

Mrs. Marozzi said they had received few photos before her brother was reported missing in action, although, she said, before that time, he used to correspond regularly with his father, at the Deshon Veterans Hospital in Butler, Pa.

Rozear, Sr., who has just been released from the hospital passed on the news of his son to his other son and daughter when the letters had been coming.

He was given up by physicians as most unlikely to recover because of a collapse he suffered on hearing that his son was missing in action.

"BACK TO SCHOOL"

Yes, the days of reading, writing and arithmetic are here again. Principals and teachers are all bustling about getting the youngsters organized and settled in their different classrooms.

Now is the time to check your bus schedules carefully — there are long winter days ahead and why have the children standing on wet, windy corners.

Our obligation to you is to maintain these schedules and get the youngsters to school warm and comfy.

In addition to Mrs. Connors, survivors include a son, John Hess, Bristol; five grandchildren; two great grandchildren; three brothers, Raymond Bunting, Morrisville; Harold Bunting, Woodridge, N. J.; Walter Bunting, Ambler.

County Bankers

are just opposed to cross-county branch banking, through merger of opening of local offices."

The Schuylkill County bankers will decide whether or not to take the stand made public by the Bucks County Bankers Association at its next meeting this month. Associates of the association in Montgomery and Chester Counties, and, most recently, in Berks County, have taken actions in support of the announced policy of opposition by the Bucks County group.

Integrated Action

More integrated action of six counties is expected at a meeting of the Bucks County Bankers Association this month.

In seeking permission to open a branch in Upper Darby, Western Saving Fund Society, noted that the comptroller of currency approved the application of the Philadelphia National Bank to open a branch in Conshohocken.

In a special bulletin issued last night, the Bucks County Bankers Association said:

"Cross county mergers, if permitted to continue, will inevitably bring the end to the unit banking system which has served our nation so well. No other nation can match our progress or development. It is significate to note that in no other nation does the unit bankng system exist. To permit any weakening of our present banking structure is to do a disservice to our country."

The bulletin said that D. Emmert Brumbaugh, former Secretary of Banking of Pennsylvania, observed that large banks are no better managed than a smaller one.

"To permit a great segment of our banking resources to be gathered into a few hands," the statement observes, "is to expose a great portion of our wealth to the determination of a few. Our financial world can stand the failure of several small banks with barely a quiver, but the failure of a single bank havng many branch offices may prove disastrous."

Fallacy

The association said the fallacy of the Philadelphia National Bank's argument that it needs to follow its customers to provide banking facilities is demonstrated in hundreds of communities, where local facilities have been found to be adequate.

The association said a poll conducted among Pennsylvania banks in 1950 showed they were overwhelmingly in favor of legislation intended to curb branch banking.

In an attempt to halt further encroachment by large Philadelphia banking institutions in local areas, both the Montgomery County bankers and the Bucks County organization have resolved, if necessary, to withdraw their funds from the larger banks.

Asked if such action was in prospect against the Western Saving Fund Society, Hance said that institution has not yet been used for holding funds of suburban banks.

Bristol Township

sented a petition which made the commissioners withdraw plans to rezone the 45-acre site from R-1 to M-2 heavy industrial.

Previously the commissioners had considered using the evacuated site as a township dump.

Whether or not Langenfelder will mine the site depends upon the reaction of the zoning board to his appeal for a special exception, a commissioners' spokesman said. The spokesman added, "the commissioners could in no way influence the decision of the board of adjustment on a special exception."

Langenfelder, a Baltimore, Md., firm, was represented by two lawyers, David H. Rosenbluth, of Baltimore, and John P. Fullam, of Bristol. Attorney Robert K. Baker represented the township.

Demos Pick Witt For School Post

LEVITTOWN, Sept. 11 — Roger F. Witt, 258 Lakeside Drive, will be a candidate for school director in Tullytown Borough this fall on the Democratic ticket, the Levittown Democratic Party announced.

Witt, 28, and the father of three children, has long been active on the education committee of the Levittown Civic Association, according to A. Patrick Brennan, 36 Laurel Lane, Democratic chairman.

School directors serve without pay, Brennan pointed out.

Witt is a native of Chicago who moved East after the war. An infantryman, he is a combat veteran of the European Theater.

He is replacing Frank DeTolla on the ballot. DeTolla of 66 Stream Lane, present secretary of the Borough Council, withdrew from the race because of other duties.

Firemen Quench

about five minutes before the train, trailing smoke plumes, arrived. The train was shifted to a track near the highway and firemen extinguished the blaze with fog-spray equipment.

Passengers from the two rear cars were herded into forward cars and the two end cars were uncoupled. The two forward cars jammed with some 250 passengers continued the run to Trenton.

The fire caused severe damage to the undercarriage and to electrical equipment, but did not spread to the inside of the car, railroad officials said.

Philadelphia Man Enters Guilty Plea In Motor Thefts

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 11—Ernest C. Barth, 22, of 5020 Torresdale avenue, Philadelphia, yesterday pleaded guilty to theft of six outboard motors in Bensalem Township. Sentence was postponed until President Judge Hiram H. Keller, who disposed of three other cases in the theft, can impose sentence.

Barth, one of four defendants involved in thefts totaling $1,135 from Cherry's Bensalem Township boat yard, told Judge Edward G. Biester that he and his companions intended to steal outboard motors from boats, but changed their minds when they realized that stealing them from a boat yard would be easier.

On Probation

Barth, on probation since March 23 in connection with armed robbery in Philadelphia, which consisted of robbing and holding up a tailor shop, was married in May.

"I had $600 in the bank and my wife had money and my wife's parents didn't charge us anything to live with them so I didn't have to work," said the defendant who finished one year in Frankford High School.

Pleading guilty to burglary, larceny and receiving stolen goods, Barth testified how he and three other young men met in a diner, borrowed a car and stole the motors.

Trooper Duane C. Allen, of the Langhorne substation, made the arrest and investigated the thefts which took place July 23.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Remember now thy creator in the days of thy youth, when the evil days come not, when thou shalt saay I have no pleasure in them.—Ecc. 12:1.

Modern dentistry and optics have changed the picture greatly, but more than all men have learned to walk in The Way shown by the Great Nazarine, which fills life with glorious memories and endears a host of friends.

WHAT DID IT COST?

Now that the guns in the Far East have been silenced, at least temporarily, various attempts are being made to determine the cost to the U. S. of what has been described as a "United Nations" war effort. The cost in money—billions of dollars—will never be actually determined, because huge expenditures are necessary to wind up the venture. But the cost in human lives is more easily determined.

More than 25,000 Americans died in the three years of fighting. More than 13,000 are missing, and the wounded total more than 104,000. For the Allies total cost in human lives was 72,000 killed in combat, 250,000 wounded, 84,000 captured or missing. Most of these were South Koreans.

Red losses are estimated at 1,500,000, but there is no way to determine the accuracy of this figure.

American casualties are still being announced. As the truce approached, the communists launched attack after attack in an effort to seize ground and to inflict more casualties on the Allies.

The cost of the war has been high. It is to be devoutly wished that it will serve as a deterrent to future communist aggressive plans, but this is something only the future can reveal.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

FRANKFORT, Germany, Sept. 11—Nothing worked for Russia in the West German elections. Goon squads from Communist East Germany were neutralized by quick police seizure and bonfires were built out of anti-American and anti-Free German propaganda leaflets.

LEWIS, JR.

The attempted phony exploitation of U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' support of the Adenauer government, boomeranged on the Reds. It also boomeranged on American critics of Dulles. The West Germans, in handing Dr. Konrad Adenauer his smashing victory, made it clear that any expressions of good will from U. S. officials are more than welcome.

In the immediate post-election period pro-American West Germans have refrained from dancing in the streets or issuing boastful victory promises. A battle was won but the political war with Communism continues.

The West Germans are pleased about a number of things, however, which the man on the street is willing to discuss. They are pleased, for instance, that refugees whose votes had been regarded as unpredictable, prior to the election, actually supported the Adenauer government. This means, to the man on the street, that the refugees are being absorbed into West Germany as ordinary citizens, willing to share in the struggle for total freedom and participation in Allied peace plans.

The overwhelming Adenauer victory also cleared the air in connection with Russian proposals for the unification of Germany. The vote was a strong expression from Free Germans that they are supporting their officials in the attempt to free East Germans from Communist domination. Now, the German voter will tell you, Russia has to put up or shut up on the unification issue. If the Kremlin continues tossing out propaganda bait, as it did before the election, not only will the unification promises be labeled fraud but so will everything else that comes across the border.

The Bundestag, with 244 Christian Democrats of the Adenauer party, plus 48 Free Democrats allied with the Christian Democrats, is now subjected to strong control. This is what the hard-working West Germans voted for—a vote that displayed the wisdom of accomplishing first things first. For instance West Germans want a strong European defense community; they want to alleviate French fears; they want closer economic ties with the West. Most of all, West Germans want to push reconstruction with a minimum of interference from a philosophy and a subversion alien to their own peace and security.

The Communists in the old Bundestag — three in number but all with direct pipelines to Moscow —shouted long and loud for all Communist objectives and against everything designed to rebuild Germany. They were the chairman of the West German Communist party, Max Reimann, and his cohorts, Walter Fisch and Heinz Renner. All were soundly defeated in the Sept. 6 elections.

Their political demise was assured when East Germany rioted against Soviet rule, but long before this event West Germans had them marked for political destruction, as comparative figures show. In 1949, the Communists polled 5.7 per cent of the vote. The party seated 15 members in the Bundestag. In 1950-51, the Communists polled 3.7 of the total vote. Last Sunday they polled only 2.2 per cent.

Their annoyance tactics prompted the Adenauer government to seek to ban their participation in elections. Adenauer asked the federal constitutional court to declare Communist political parties unconstitutional. The decision is pending, but the voters made it unofficially final last Sunday.

The Communists here wanted a United Workers' party; support for the foreign policy of the Soviet Union; acceptance of the Oder-Neisse-line; junking the Schuman plan, European defense and all contractual agreements with the free nations of the world.

Moscow already knew, prior to the West German elections, what East Germans thought of the dictatorship of the proletariat. Now it knows what West Germans think of it. Most of the people of West Germany who are willing to discuss the future decline to speculate on what Russia will do next. They are simply happy that Moscow now knows where they stand in regard to choosing up sides, and are willing to leave the next move to the Kremlin while they stay on the job behind an iron curtain of freedom and unity they erected on Sunday.

Long Dry Spell Damaged Crops, State Reports

HARRISBURG, Sept. 11—(INS)—The State Agriculture Department today reported last week-end's rain improved late crop prospects but came too late to permit full recovery.

The weekly crop survey noted the record heat and the dry spell which began Aug. 10 ended with the rainfall Saturday and Sunday.

"Rains ranging from one-half to six inches brought relief to all vegetable growth," stated the report. "Prospects for late crops improved, but drought damage in some cases was too severe to allow full recovery.

"Rainfall benefitted some late planted corn, but for many fields it came too late for normal development of ears. Early corn is a good crop.

"Cutting for grain has started, and filling of silos is in full swing. Much late planted corn for ensilage is low quality.

"Preparations for planting winter grains are again making headway following considerable delay in dry ground. Some barley, winter oats and wheat have been seeded. Harvesting of buckwheat has started, but dry, hot weather lowered yield prospects.

"Heat and drought hindered development of late potatoes, and some growers expect only a half crop. The rains were helpful, but in some areas more is needed."

Accidents can happen even on the best farms, where safety is taught. That is why everyone must always be on guard against that lurking killer, Carlessness.

PLACE NAMES In BUCKS COUNTY

Excerpts from the book of that name, published by The Bucks County Historical Society, an historical narrative compiled by the late George MacReynoldis, librarian of that society, and copyrighted in 1942.

NEWPORTVILLE

Village in northwestern Bristol township on Neshaminy Creek near the head of tidewater. A post office was established March 25, 1836, with Mahlon G. Hibbs as postmaster. For some unknown reason the name was changed February 21, 1855, to Neshaminy, but in two weeks (March 7, 1855) the old name was resumed. The first name of the place was Newport and the "ville" was added when it was made a post office in 1836, but the innovation was unpopular and the name Newport persisted for years afterward.

All the early maps have the name Newport. Its derivation is uncertain. It is claimed that it was named for the Newport family, but it does not appear that this family was ever prominent at this place. Again, as it is a very old settlement on a ford and road opened at an early date, it has been suggested that it may have been named Newport, by Edward Doyle, the elder, one of the early settlers in that part of Bristol Township, who came from Newport, R. I., with his father-in-law, Rev. Thomas Dungan. It is called Newport in Gordon's Gazetteer of Pennsylvania, 1832, where it is classed as "a village on Neshaminy Creek, three miles northwest of Bristol, where there are excellent grist and saw mills and a bridge of wood on stone piers."

Dr. S. F. Hotchkin devotes some space in his Bristol Pike (1894, p. 348) to Newportville, wherein he mentions several of the well-known family of Birkey, four of whom were physicians, residing on the premises next to the Newportville school house. William Hogan's blacksmith shop, the carriage shop of the Rose Brothers, Samuel Gosling and Son's agricultural implement factory, the stores of William Vandegrift and Daniel Everitt and Philip Betts' shoe store were some of the industries and places named. George Boehmler was landlord of the old inn at that time. Ascension Episcopal Chapel, built in 1870 is the only place of worship in the village. (Editor's note: The present name of the church in Newportville is Newportville Community Church—Presbyterian).

Gadgets Talk Back Thanks to Science

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (INS)—The hardest thing to achieve in this best of all possible worlds is a little peace and quiet. I can remember the good, old days when the only object from which one got any back talk was people.

But we live in a restless age in which science is never willing to leave well enough alone. Scientists have now endowed inanimate objects with the gift of speech and a pox upon them. There is scarcely a machine in operation today that doesn't have more lip than a Ubangi.

With increasing impatience I have withstood the onslaughts of the talking machine, radio, teevee and the doll that prattles like a magpie. Through it all, I have bound up my throbbing nerves as best I could.

But science has gone too far. Three new straws—all talking—have broken this camel's steely back. The first is Mayor Vincent Impellitteri's edict authorizing the installation of radios in New York City taxicabs.

This will enable drivers and citizens to live even more dangerously, and V. Impellitteri to garner another five votes in the November election.

And it will put me back on my feet, too. All my life I have been able to avoid soap operas and I do not intend to lower my proud flag. Rather than listen to "Mary's Other Husband" en route to the office every day, I shall walk. (The subway is out because the Transit Commission is going to try singing commercials in it.)

The second intolerable straw is a new vending machine which when fed a coin will deliver gum, coffee, soft drinks, peanuts or beer and then say, "Thank you." A customer will be lucky to get away before it burps in his face.

I do not want to pose as a rigid moralist, but I will thank any machine to keep its distance and not try to engage me in chit-chat or light persiflage. Mama warned me long ago never to talk to strangers and that goes for windy robots.

Give a fresh vending machine a civil word, and before a girl can slap its face, it'll be asking for a date. Unless this trend is checked, no public place will be safe for a decent woman in a thin calico dress!

The third straw is a purse or pocketbook equipped with a tiny music box that plays a tune every time milady opens the contraption. Reach into that bag for a lipstick, an address book, the key to the front door, a compact or a pencil, and this bag begins to make like Toscanini.

This is a Swiss invention now retailing for $37.50 up and down Fifth avenue. The Swiss are an admirable people, but they can carry neutrality too far and this time they've done it. Let them stick to cuckoo clocks and money and leave the rest of us to sun dials and wampum.

This pocketbook can be had in several different leathers and tunes, which include "Anniversary Song," "Happy Birthday," "The Eyes of Texas," the Third Man theme song, "La Vie En Rose," Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," a Brahm's waltz, "The Blue Danube" and "Stardust."

So long as the Swiss were bent upon perpetrating this upon a quivering world, which can scarcely stand another decible of sound, they have shown scant ingenuity in their choice of musical selections.

There ought to be a purse for the party girl that gives out with "How Dry I Am" and another for the spinster that carols "I Ain't Got Nobody." And nothing could be more practical than a purse that, when goaded, would sing "How Much is the Mink-y in the Window?"

Even I mght be converted and buy if the Swiss would get their heads out of the Alps and rush over a practical model that would broadcast, "Brother, Can You Spare a Dime."

Your Birthday by STELLA

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11—Born today, you have one of those alert, brilliant all around minds which seem capable of tackling all problems presented and finding a practical solution. Your interests are very wide and you seem to have a working knowledge of information in a great many varying fields. Guard against spreading your energies too thin. But, it so happens that you have such a great deal of physical and nervous energy that you can usually cope with a number of things all at one time.

You are a natural leader and know how to meet and handle all types of people. Your work should take you into contact with the public, since you have a definite talent in that direction. You speak well in public and know how to manage others. Since your magnetic personality makes you well liked as a "boss," you can get cooperation where others might fail. Put at the head of some large enterprise, you are capable of keeping the multiple cogs and wheels turning in perfect order! You understand human nature and are kindly and sympathetic when there is a real need. Yet you can be a harsh taskmaster if you think that anyone is shirking on the job. That is something that you can never condone!

There is a convival side to your nature which makes it difficult for you to try to live alone and like it. Your emotional nature is strong and an early marriage would bring you the greatest measure of happiness. Fond of children, you would like to have a large family of your own. Denied this, you would tend to "adopt" all the neighborhood young fry and would make a wonderful uncle or aunt.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

Saturday, September 12

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23) — Rest and relaxation are in the cards for you today. If tensions have been mounting, relax now.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23) — If the weather is favorable, be sure to get out in the fresh air and sunshine. It will do you a world of good.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Don't try to do any office work this week end. Forget it for a couple of days and just have fun.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22) — If called upon to make an important decision on the home front, think over all details carefully.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23-Jan. 20) — Home and family should take first place today. Make plans for their pleasure. It will be very rewarding.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19) — You will find that friends are very much worthwhile. But you have to "put out" a little, yourself, to hold them.

PISCES (Feb. 20-Mar. 20) — If tensions are mounting, take preventative measures and relax before you reach the breaking point.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 20) — If you have work to do, get it finished early in the morning so you can devote the balance of the day to pleasurable activities.

TAURUS (Apr. 21-May 21) — Plan to get out of doors, if you can, over this week end. The fresh air will do you a lot of good.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) — Don't take on too much as host or hostess, for you will not get the rest that you urgently need that way.

CANCER (June 22-July 23) — Just vegetate this week end! Rest both body and brain. You will find it is worthwhile, later on.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23) — Have fun with members of your own family and close friends. Don't try to paint the town this evening.

Today's Quiet Moment

By WILLIAM S. WOODMAN
Pastor
Newportville Community Church — Presbyterian
Christ the Church's One Foundation

And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ. I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able. For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not yet carnal, and walk as men? For while one saith, I am of Paul; and another, I am of Appollos; are ye not carnal? Who then is Paul, and who is Appollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man? I have planted, Appollos watered; but God gave the increase. So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase. Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labor. For we are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building. I Cor. 3:1-9.

I believe that we need to spend many quiet moments on the meaning of these words.

Politics Denied In Vet Welcome

Protests were being directed yesterday against the Lower Bucks County Chamber of Commerce in general and against its president, Louis Dries, in particular, on an assumption that Dries' appointment of Horace Schmidt to head the welcoming committee arranging for the reception of Attillio Cauti, Bristol veteran of the Korean campaign, was inspired by political considerations.

Dries yesterday categorically denied the charges as completely unfounded. He said Schmidt was appointed entirely on the basis of his proven capacity to do the job.

Schmidt, a florist of 401 Otter street, was the victor in sticker and write-in vote campaigning during the May 19 primaries. He will run for Burgess on the November ballot as an Independent-Republican.

Continental Club Schedules Meet At Custer Farm

Christopher Custer, regional director of the Lincoln Continental Owners Club, announced a meet will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at Brookside Farm, the Custer home.

Both Christopher and his father, Warren Custer, are owners of 1941 Continentals, which will be exhibited at the meet, as will more than 20 other cars from Massachusetts, Maryland, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

William Musselman will exhibit a converted Lincoln. Frank Bash, Germantown, will have one of his Cadillac converted Lincolns at the Meet also.

Robert Conroy, Doylestown, is sponsoring two cups to be awarded for the two best Continentals in the meet.

Elliston H. Bell, Jr., Boston, Mass., is chairman of club membership. The principal objectives of the club is the preservation of Lincoln Continentals. However, non-owners may participate in club activities.

Man Pleads Guilty To Drunk Charge

Charles Holland, 709 Excelsior avenue, Croydon, pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated at a hearing held this morning before Justice of the Peace Anthony Niccol in the Borough Hall and was released under $500 bond for the next term of county court.

Holland was arrested early this morning at 12:45 by Police Chief John H. Stewart and Patrolmen Ernest Nuskey and Charles Shaw on police car duty.

The officers said they followed Holland after he had been observed proceeding from his car twice in a weaving gait after halts. When he resumed driving, the policemen forced him to the side of the road at First avenue and State road and conducted him to Bristol General Hospital, where he was pronounced intoxicated.

Prepare 'Quickie'

the meeting. Arthur Straffe will arrange for the music. Business houses and residences are urged to display flags. A sound truck will tour the borough advising of Cauti's arrival.

Kenneth Anderson of Kenray Signs, will arrange transportation, Charles Bassett will take care of furnishing lighting, Archie Dalrymple is in charge of house decorations, Horace P. Schmidt is in charge of police. Schmidt and Frank Profy will arrange for the recorded music. This is all for the "quickie" reception.

Tentative Date

For the big formal celebration planned now for Sept. 19, but subject to change, the time has been set at 5 p. m. for the start of the street parade at the Bristol high school. The Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and patriotic societies along with every other organization will compose the parade. Fire companies are invited as well as individuals in cars.

Boy scouts and all groups in the borough are invited to participate. They are requested to notify the committee so that plans for location in the line of parade can be given. Peter Cattani and Frank Profy will take care of the organizations. Joseph Bono will contact St. Ann's.

The parade will proceed over the following route:

Harrison street, Farragut avenue, Pond street, Jefferson avenue, Spring street, Beaver street, Buckley street, Bath street, Mill street, Radcliffe street, to the Legion Home. Here, again, there will be speeches and dancing in the street.

The Cauti family received a telegram, last evening, stating that Cpl. Cauti would arrive in California, Sept. 10. Further details were not given except that he would then be transferred to a "service hospital nearby."

Definite plans cannot be made until it is learned when Cauti will be in Bristol.

The Chester W. Terchon Post 5542 VFW has voted to give Cauti four years free membership in the post.

This action was taken at this week's meeting of the post, according to Commander Henry R. Kornstedt, Jr. He said the group plans to give Cauti a year's membership for each year or fraction of a year he was a prisoner.

Committees were appointed at the meeting to look for a site within the township for a proposed new home for the post.

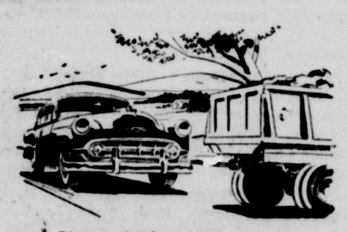
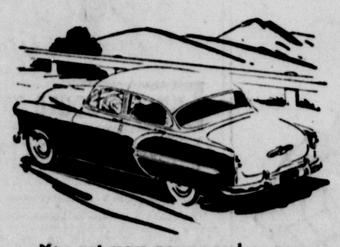
You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel
Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the rich-looking upholstery and appointments and roomy, comfortable seats. Just turn the ignition key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!
I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!



Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops
An easy nudge on the brake pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet brakes are the largest in the low-price field—extra large for extra stopping power.



You get more power on less gas
Here's all the power and performance you could ever ask for. And along with it comes the most important gain in economy in Chevrolet history! That's because of Chevrolet's two great high-compression engines.

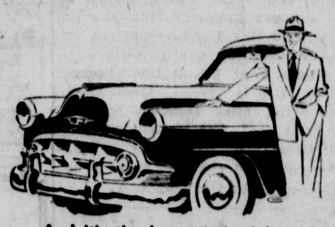
You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*
Finer performance on less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

Even Power Steering, if you want it
You ought to try Power Steering to see how easy driving can be. You can spin the wheel with one finger! It's optional, of course, at extra cost, and available on all models.

It's heavier for better roadability
You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady ride. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than other low-priced cars.

You can see all around
You look out and down at the road through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!
CHEVROLET
MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!
WATCH THE GENERAL MOTORS FOOTBALL GAME OF THE WEEK—NBC Television Network



And it's the lowest-priced line
A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers more in the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.
*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Rohm & Haas Takes Kaiser To Win Title

Rohm and Haas captured the championship of the Bristol Industrial Softball League by nosing out Kaiser Metal, 12-11, for two straight in the final playoff series. Rohm and Haas, also regular season champs, entered the finals by eliminating Philco in two consecutive games.

Both teams blew away big leads in the contest. Rohm and Haas took a 7-2 edge in the third but saw this wiped away by an 8-run splurge by the Kaisermen in the fourth, giving the aircraft workers a 10-7 lead. The chemical mixers stepped in front with 4 more runs in the fifth to make it 11-10 but in the top of the sixth, Kaiser deadlocked the score.

Winning Run

Rohm and Haas won out in the bottom of the inning with a run. The game was called at the end of the sixth because of darkness.

Rohm and Haas big frame was the third. Oser and Johnson both hit doubles, Johnson scoring. Buts got on and after Steinbrun grounded out, Fisher scored Johnson with a hit. After Hunter walked and Patterson singled, the bags were loaded. Horace Tranter cleaned them up with a two-bagger to left. Tranter scored the 7th run on Mulchinock's fly to left.

Kaiser Scores 8

The Kaiser 8 runs were scored in this manner: Parell, Potena, and Monticello walked to fill the bags. Elmer scored a run with a hit. Kelly's hit scored another and then Conoline whacked a homer to left. Stapleton went out. Warner's hit and a pass to Accardi put two more men on base. An outfield fly and error scored this pair.

In the first half of the sixth, Kelly walked and went to second on Conoline's fly. Stapleton's single scored Kelly with the tying run.

Kaiser won the game in its half of the inning. Fisher was given a free ticket to first. Hunter singled and on Patterson's sharp blow to left, Fisher crossed.

Warriors Ready For First Kickoff

Bristol High seems primed for its 1953 gridiron inaugural tonight under the lights on the home field as it meets Souderton High, a newcomer on the local schedule. Kickoff will take place at 8:30 o'clock.

Coach Anthony D'Angelo has announced that Bob Michael who performed at end last season will be lost for this game and perhaps also for the Hatboro game next week. Michaels suffered a knee injury during a practice session.

D'Angelo has also made another change, planning to use Jim Potena, an excellent tackler, as a linebacker. Potena is a senior and goes at 165 pounds.

A large crowd is expected to be on hand to see the Warriors usher in their fotball campaign in their new uniforms of Red and Gray.

Player is Injured In Grid Practice

PENNDEL, Sept. 11—A 20-year-old football player was injured last night in practice on Memorial Field when he fell after a hard tackle. Thomas DeOrio, of 127 Lincoln Highway, landed with his stomach on the football and struck his head on the ground, according to Trevose Heights Rescue Squad, who transported him to Abington Hospital. He suffered stomach convulsions. DeOrio stayed there for 24 hours' observation.

The Trevose Heights Squad took Mrs. Margaret Steiber, of Bristol road, Holland, to Nazareth Hospital.

Auto Boys Get Title Franklin Falls 5-1

Auto Boys won the playoff championship of the Bristol Softball League last evening by winning over Franklin A. C., 5-1, in a final playoff game on Memorial field. The teams played three games in the finals with one ending in a deadlock, 1-1. Auto Boys won the first game, 4-2.

Unlike the previous games, there was plenty of hitting in last evening's tilt. The winners tagged "Chick" Stanksy for 9 blows while Franklin managed to get to Bill Wigham for 8 hits.

Three of Auto Boys' hits were for extra bases while Franklin failed to get an extra base knock. In fact, in the three games, Franklin did not get an extra base blow. Strikeouts last evening were scarce with each pitcher getting one.

Franklin Scores

Franklin started off by producing a run in the second. Joe Cialella hit safely to left and went to second while Wigham was throwing out Fred Ciotti. Barney Ludwig came through in the clutch and lined a hit to center, Cialella going home. Stansky forced Ludwig at second.

Auto Boys did not tie the score until the last of the third. After Saxton flied out, Costantino hit in front of the plate. Ludwig fielded the ball but Field dropped the throw at first and before he could recover, Costantino had worked his way to third base. Ray Pierandozzi shot a double to left, Costantino crossing. Tony Cauti drew a walk. Wigham forced Pierandozzi at third Palumbo unassisted. When Johnny Frank walked, the bases were packed with boys from the Department Store team. Klein hit a 3 and 1 pitch right back to Stansky for a putout at first.

Lead in 5th

The Mill Streeters went into the lead in the fifth. With one gone, Pierandozzi got his second hit, a single to center. Cauti was the second out on a fly to Bob Lattanzi. Wigham beat out a hit to deep short. Frank singled to center, Pierandozzi hoofing it to the plate. Klein lined to Lattanzi.

The ultimate winners added another tally in the sixth. After Uhland flied out, Joe Sallustio hit to Sonny Field who erred and then tossed wild to first to allow the runner to go to second. Saxton bunted, Sallustio advancing to third. Costantino's bounder took a hop over Palumbo's head for a hit, Sallustio going home. Pierandozzi was thrown out by Palumbo.

The Auto Boys contingent wrapped it up in the seventh. Tony Cauti rapped a long triple to right and Wigham followed with a three-bagger to left. Frank's best was a fly which Ludwig camped under. Chuck Klein lined a hit to center, Wigham denting home plate. A fast twin-killing, Palumbo to Field to Lattanzi, ended the frame.

Tapers Off

After Franklin scored in the second, it only got one runner past first base, Toby Oriola in the last canto.

Wigham had three hits for the winners with Pierandozzi coming through with a pair. Ludwig, Cialella, and Oriola had two hits each for Franklin with Ludwig driving in the lone run.

Cauti and Sallustio played outstanding ball in the field for Auto Boys. The pair, handled 18 changes without an error. The Mill Streeters played errorless ball and committed but three errors in the final playoffs. Franklin had 7 errors in the playoffs.
